‘Valuing The Future’

Principal’s Message

What an amazing day Saturday was, the weather was beautiful and it was fantastic to see so many parents helping out. I heard so many stories from past students about how they enjoyed their time at this school. Having everyone in the one spot for the drone photo, will be something I will remember for a long time.

Old school day on Friday was also a lot of fun. It was good to see all the kids dressed up and adhering to the old school rules.

Next week I will be sending home a term 4 overview. I am just waiting to confirm a few excursions but as always it will be a busy term. If you have any questions please contact the school.

The end of term assembly will be held next Thursday afternoon from 2.25 to 3.25pm. It will follow the regular format and may be held outside if the weather is fine.

Regards,
Jad Southwell

3-6 Class

On Tuesday we had Mr Orman come into our classroom to be interviewed. I had a question to ask him it was, “What was your favourite subject to teach?”, his answer was, “maths.” It was fun!!!

Remind yourself to step back and take a breath, think about the situation, walk away to a quiet spot, seek assistance from a school leader and then bounce back in a positive manner.

K-2 News

What a fabulous couple of weeks we have had! I have had so many proud teacher moments with the K-2 class and the 150th celebrations, such as when the children interviewed Catherine, or when they took Mr Orman on a tour of our school as it is now, or when Hugh was walking our oldest past student to the cutting of the cake and saying he'd take care of her. I think the moment I was most proud however was when the students were singing 'I Still Call Glenquarry Home' and every single one of the K-2 class were singing it at their loudest and proudest.

We have just begun focusing on persuasive writing with a unit of work based on Mo Willem's 'Don't Let the Pigeon Drive the Bus' and other of his works. The children have been looking at generating supporting arguments with some impressive results! In maths we have been looking at measurement of length, and how to use this to measure area, and how to use this to measure volume. We are very close to working out just how much space the chook shed takes up!

The transition class have had their first full day at Glenquarry, and have done it in style with an excursion to Kangaloon to watch their school play. Another proud teacher moment for me!
